Announcement by the Council for Democratic Reform No. 5: Student Participation in Politics

Mindful of the important role of college students, as an untainted source of strength, in the Kingdom, the Council for Democratic Reform welcomes student participation in politics under a democratic system with a monarch as head of state, particularly their participation in the upcoming general election for members of parliament that is fair, just and with no vote-buying or any form of influence. Students with any comments or suggestions on how to promote the further development of the political system under a democracy with a monarch as head of state can send their views to the Office of the Army Secretary, Royal Thai Army, Ratchadamnoen Nok Avenue, Phra Nakorn District, Bangkok 10200.
