

The Cabinet agreed to relax to ban of gatherings of more than 5 people in public place

On 17 October 2006, General Surayud Chulanont the Cabinet Meeting agreed to amend the Council of Democratic Reform's Announcement No. 7 which banned any gatherings of 5 people or more for political purpose. The amendment will allow more than 5 people to gather at the university compound and convention hall. The Cabinet's proposal will be later discussed at the Council for National Security in the afternoon of the same day and eventually submitted to the National legislative Assembly for final approval.
